

28th June 2011

To whom it may concern.....

As a regional construction company carrying out numerous projects of a diverse nature at any one time in an increasingly aggressive marketplace, Benniman Ltd is progressively focused upon reacting to the needs of our customers with the highest levels of efficiency and responsibility. During the selection process for a business partner to undertake the execution and management of our utility requirements it became patently obvious that these same qualities would be a fundamental necessity. In GEW2 Ltd we have found a company which extols these exact same virtues, providing Benniman with essential expertise, guidance and support at all stages of the contracting process, be it tender, design development or construction phase. With a highly professional outlook and knowledgeable and experienced management and staff, GEW2 consistently assist us in the delivery of prestige construction projects within programme, to budget and, most importantly, to the specific aspirations of our Clients and their tenants. It is our most definite intention to develop this close working relationship even further as we move into what is hopefully an improving economic situation for all.

Tim Mills
Chief Buyer